

General Advice Warning

The advice provided to you by the Life Insurance Company is General Advice Only.

This means it has been prepared without taking into account your personal objectives, financial situation, or needs.

Before acting on any general advice you receive, you should:

1. Carefully consider whether the advice is appropriate to your circumstances; and
2. Obtain and read the relevant Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) and Target Market Determination (TMD) for any financial product recommended to you.

If you require personal financial advice that takes into account your individual situation, Conexus Group Pty Ltd can refer you to an adviser who is authorised to provide personal advice.
